

STRIKER'S GAIN

Milwaukee Workers Vote to Obey Shaffer

A HOPE OF CHICAGO

There Was Great Joy Among the Pittsburgh Men Who Announce That the Strike Is As Good As Won—The Steel Men on the Other Hand Say That Its Failure Is As Inevitable As Ever.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 17.—The Bay View men will strike. The vote on President Shaffer's order is said to have been unanimous after a session of the lodge lasting five hours. The plant of the Illinois steel company at Bay View will be shut down indefinitely and about 1,400 men will be rendered idle.

By News of a Second Gain in the West.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 17.—The news that the Milwaukee men had decided to cast their fortunes with the strikers, supplemented by the wired announcement that the steel men in the River-side plant at Wheeling had voted to strike, awakened new enthusiasm in the ranks of the United States Steel corporation and its followers today.

There had been some doubt as to the final decision of the Milwaukee lodges, and it was feared that if the vote was adverse Joliet might reconsider its last previous vote and the chances of winning Chicago would be greatly reduced. The Milwaukee vote enthused them with hope that Chicago can be prevailed upon to reconsider its vote and come over to the strikers.

When news from Milwaukee reached here tonight it was quickly spread among the strikers. They were highly enthusiastic over it and renewed their assurances of their complete confidence in the final success in their contest against the United States Steel corporation. The leading steel officials had gone to their homes when the news was received and no expression on the subject was obtainable from them. An officer of a subsidiary company said that it would merely make the steel corporation more determined to win.

The information from Milwaukee and Wheeling came after a day of exceedingly quietness throughout the strike districts. The forces at the non-union mills in operation were not increased during the day and neither side had made an important move. The employees of the Pennsylvania Tube works, a plant in this city controlled by the National Tube company, completed their organization as a lodge of the American Federation of Labor and made a demand on the management for a general advance in wages.

There are about 1,000 employees in the works, and it is claimed that 875 of them have been organized. They threatened to join the strike unless their demand was granted.

The management agreed to meet the committee on Monday, and it is believed an advance in wages will be agreed to. These are the first men outside the Amalgamated association to couple a demand in their own behalf with their threat to strike. The strikers are making a determined effort to extend their organization among the men employed by the great group of the Carnegie mills. It is understood that they have secured a foothold in the Duquesne property and that the men who have joined them will be called out probably tomorrow or Monday.

FRANZ JOSEPH'S BIRTH

Its Anniversary Will Be Celebrated Throughout Austria Today.

Vienna, Aug. 17.—The capital is assuming gala attire in honor of Emperor Francis Joseph, who celebrates his seventy-first birthday tomorrow. Owing to the fact that the court is in mourning for the late Empress Frederick there will be no official recognition of the anniversary. Every town and city in both halves of the empire will, however, observe the day by the decoration of streets and the illumination of houses, and by deeds of public charity, which is the manner in which the aged monarch prefers to have celebrated all the festivals which are connected with his life or reign. In every street in Vienna and its suburbs flags and banners are flying and preparations have been made for an illumination more elaborate and general than any that has ever before been seen here.

The celebrations in honor of Emperor Francis Joseph are not the forced tributes of down-trodden subjects, but are spontaneous testimonies to the love and affection which this most generous monarch is held by the people. There is no more popular ruler in the world, and he has won this popularity by a uniform generosity and kindness to his people ever since he mounted the throne fifty-two years ago, when a mere schoolboy. During his reign the realm has changed from being the very central citadel of old conservatism to being the foremost camp of advanced liberalism among the continental monarchies. At the same time he has preserved the traditions of the court, which now, as ever, is the most aristocratic in Europe. Universal suffrage and great progress in science and the arts have come about during his reign and largely through his efforts. It is a strange empire over which he rules. An arbitrary wielding of a dozen races and nationalities, speaking as many tongues and without sympathy, he has made a strong nation from the medley, and it is said that with his death the empire may be dissolved into the inharmonious component parts for, however, great may be the mutual jealousies, all of his subjects regard their emperor with love and veneration. Even after Sadowa there was no talk of revolution.

The wealth of Francis Joseph is as great as his popularity. There are those who say he is the richest man in the world. His possessions in Austria are enormous, and a great portion of the fertile country belongs to him outright, while he owns one of the principal railways, the big salt mines and hundreds of palaces and estates, with an interest in scores of factories and other industries. His wealth cannot be estimated but it is believed to reach into the hundreds of millions.

MOTORMAN LOST CONTROL

In Consequence Eight People Lost Their Lives.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—Eight persons were killed outright and several others seriously injured tonight in a collision between a trolley car on the Forty-seventh street line and a Fort Wayne passenger train. The motorman lost control of his car, which ran through the safety gates and crashed into the second coach of a rapidly moving train on the Fort Wayne road. The motorman is said to be among the dead.

PORTRAITS OF NAVY OFFICIALS.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The navy department is slowly obtaining portraits of former secretaries of the navy. Acting Secretary Hackett has recently obtained an old picture of John Branch, who was appointed secretary of the navy on March 7, 1829, by Andrew Jackson. The department's portrait gallery is not nearly so complete as that of the war department, not more than 30 percent of the ex-secretaries of the navy being represented of the latter secretaries, however, only William C. Whitney is missing, and the department hopes that his portrait may be secured shortly.

FOREIGN MONEY MARKETS

A Suspicious Selling Movement of American Stocks.

London, Aug. 17.—The stock market continues firm, but this firmness is not accompanied by any business to speak of in view of tomorrow's settlement. Some large gold arrivals helped conditions. President Kruger is reported as being in a comatose condition.

American stocks hesitated at the start on the disappointing crop reports. New York sent in the morning heavy selling orders, particularly in the Atchafalpa and Union Pacific. London regarded this as a ruse by Wall Street intended to cause a panic over here, but speculation was so small that the effect was merely nominal. The market was at first idle, and then New York sent prices half an hour late. The steel stocks led in a sharp rally, and on the announcement that the strikers' movement lacks cohesion the market hardened quickly to the finish.

The Bank of England has received £300,000 in gold, and has bought £245,000 in India and £230,000 in Australia. It is expected that the bank will receive £2,000,000 African gold that arrived on Saturday, also half a million due this week from India.

AN ADMIRER OF GALLANTRY.

Man Who Broke Into Family With an Ax Exonerated.

New York, Aug. 17.—"I'll never punish a man who rushes to the defense of a woman," said Magistrate Crane in the Harlem police court this morning, when he discharged John McGinn, a driver, charged with having assaulted John Fulford, colored, last night. McGinn was passing through Ninety-seventh street, when he saw Fulford strike a white woman and drag her into the house. He followed, thinking, as he told the magistrate today, that the colored man had designs on the white woman. He tried to get into Fulford's rooms, but they were locked. He got an ax and broke down the door. He then learned that the white woman was Fulford's wife. Fulford wanted to fight, and he accommodated him and whipped him. A policeman arrested McGinn.

"He was trying to protect a woman, was he not?" asked the magistrate of the policeman.

"Then he should be commended," said the magistrate. "I'll never punish a man who rushes to the defense of a woman."

COLOR LINE IN CUBA.

Only Whites to Be Enrolled in an Island Artillery Corps.

Havana, Aug. 17.—The discussion says that the order for the enrollment of a Cuban artillery corps by only permitting whites to be enrolled will sow germs of discord between the blacks and whites and establish a precedent both dangerous and unjust.

SHIPPING BILL PLAN

Senator Frye Calls a Conference to Prepare It

Meeting Will Be Held Within Two Weeks—Important Modifications Suggested for the Proposed Subsidy—Mr Hanna Will Attend.

Rockland, Me., Aug. 17.—Senator Frye is planning a meeting of the friends of the Hanna-Frye shipping bill, to be held either in Boston or Portland Springs on some date between August 25 and September 5, probably in Boston.

The purpose is to get the bill ready for presentation soon after the opening of congress, and to receive suggestions as to the best form in which to introduce it.

Senator Hanna will be present, together with Congressman Grosvenor, Congressman Littlefield of this city will be present if he returns in time from the convention of the National Bar association in Denver.

Among the more important matters to be considered at the conference is a provision in favor of vessels engaged for the greater part of the year in the coastwise trade, and which wish to engage in the foreign trade a portion of the year. Under provisions of the old bill, vessels had to be engaged in this traffic all of the time, in order to draw a subsidy, and this was considered one of the most objectionable features.

CIVIL SERVICE VIOLATIONS

Report on Solicitations of Money in New Jersey.

New York, Aug. 17.—The report of the committee appointed by the council of the National Civil Service Reform league to investigate alleged violations of the civil service laws by the post office authorities in Jersey City was forwarded today to Charles Emory Smith, postmaster general. The specific violation alleged is that E. W. Wooley, an assistant postmaster in Jersey City, and as president of the Hudson County and the Jersey City Republican committees, solicited money from the carriers and clerks in the Jersey City postoffice for campaign purposes, and that several who refused to respond were disciplined by Mr. Wooley. The report in part says:

The evidence collected by Dr. Washburne shows that these contributions were not made voluntarily by the carriers, but were made through fear of persecution by the officials under whom they were serving. That this fear was well grounded and that the failure to contribute was generally followed by changes of routes injurious to the carriers affected and by the assignment of vacations in the winter season, an undesirable time, is also shown. Briefly summarized, it appears from the evidence that Carriers Sherman, Laux, Knobloch, Stock and others did not contribute, and they were "pounded" by having their routes changed and getting bad vacations in the winter time; that others like Coleman, Pete Theurer, Hogan, Edge and Whitelegue did not contribute, and avoided trouble, while still others, like Freund, Looney, Theodore Johnson, Joseph Johnson and Wines, after having suffered in this respect by failing to contribute finally made their contributions, and were not further molested.

IN CRIMINAL COURTS

Bicycle Cases, Drunks, Scraps, Dog Catchers and Other Things.

In the recorder's court yesterday the thing exciting the most interest was the decision in the bicycle cases. The recorder said that under the ordinance he could not do otherwise than find the accused guilty, but recognizing the lack of criminal intent on their part he would return the bail money and suspend sentence until such later time as he should see fit to call for the customary fine, if he ever did.

The only other case that got before the recorder was that of Felipe Mazon, who was given a sentence of thirty days in jail for disorderly conduct. At the conclusion of the hearing the man was taken by Constable Berryessa on a warrant and presented before Justice Gray, to answer the charge of disturbing the peace. His trial in justice court was set for September 16th. There seems to be a churning of authority in this case between the police and the constable. The police claim to have made the arrest and assert that the warrant covers the same crime. The justice says that the complaint was made in his court hours before and that Constable Kyle had searched in vain for the accused and turned the warrant over to Constable Berryessa, who found the man, and turned him over to the police. The question is, to whom does the offender belong.

Juan Diaz, the official dog catcher, was brought before Justice Gray on complaint of Eusebia de Medina, who said he entered her house and took away her dog, thus disturbing the peace. The evidence showed that the dog had been in captivity before and when Diaz called this time the children of the plaintiff turned the animal over to him without protest. Diaz was discharged.

THE PRISCO STRIKE

The Patching Up of an Early Peace Is Possible.

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—Negotiations looking to bring about some sort of a conference whereby an industrial peace can be patched up are still in progress, and the committee of one hundred of the Federation of Improvement clubs has taken the most prominent position.

President Joseph Rothschild of the committee of one hundred yesterday conferred with M. F. Michael of the Employers' association, and, though neither of the gentlemen will discuss what passed it is said that the outlook for a restoration of business activity has been improved.

IRISH TOO NUMEROUS

Threat to Reduce Ireland's Representation

Construction on Mr. Chamberlain's Language at the Late Marlborough Demonstration—Mistake of Nationalists—War Scandal.

London, Aug. 17.—Mr. Chamberlain's reference at the Bleanheim demonstration to the over-representation of Ireland in the imperial parliament is believed to forebode a government bill with the object of correcting the anomalies in representation of the different parts of the United Kingdom. The government, of course, has had no chance of passing such a measure during the present session, but it is well known that Mr. Chamberlain is very eager to reduce the number of Irish members, and if he is allowed to have his way the prime minister will announce a redistribution bill in the king's speech at the opening of parliament in 1902. The tactics adopted by the nationalists at Westminster have lost them a good deal of English sympathy, and the reduction of their number would please the bulk of the people of Great Britain, irrespective of party. Should the king, however, adhere to his present intention of visiting Ireland next April the cabinet might find it advisable to postpone the matter for a more opportune time.

A U. P. COLLISION.

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 17.—The Union Pacific westbound overland limited was wrecked at Table Rock, near Green River, Wyo., this morning. Three of the train crew and thirteen passengers were injured, none seriously, however. The accident was the result of a collision between the overland limited and two light engines which were endeavoring to make a siding. The three locomotives were badly damaged and traffic delayed for twelve hours.

RESCUED BY A BOXER.

Young Woman Saved From Drowning By an Amateur Pugilist.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 17.—"Billy" McAvoy, amateur boxer of the West Side Athletic club of New York, figured in a rescue at Newport's bathing beach yesterday afternoon, and had it not been for his quick work a young woman would have drowned. At the height of the bathing hour it was suddenly noticed that a young woman was out beyond her depth and was seen to be struggling in the water. The alarm was given when a man, standing on the beach in street attire threw off his hat and coat and rushed into the surf and soon had hold of the woman. She grasped him in such a manner that both were in danger of going down, when he struck the woman a blow and soon had her landed safely on the beach. Then he walked away and it was with reluctance that he gave his name.

Excursions of Danes to America Projected.

London, Aug. 17.—Denmark will be well represented at the St. Louis exposition in 1902. Alexander Commons and Hugo Hollins, the agents of St. Louis, have obtained many assurances from Danish manufacturers. A feature of the exhibit will be a Danish farm dairy, showing the animals employed and the processes for making cheese and butter. Excursions of Danes, Swedes and Norwegians are projected. Among them will be several clubs and corporations. Messrs. Commons and Hollins have left Copenhagen for Christiania and Stockholm.

SHE HAD HER WIND

Constitution Won in Favorable Circumstances

A NARROW MARGIN

It Was the Kind of a Breeze for Which She Was Built—In the Fourteen Contests With the Old Defender She Has Won Eight Times—The Tuning Up, However, Has Not Proved Her Excellence.

Larchmont, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Today's race between the Constitution and Columbia was only a matter of seconds. For the fourteenth time the two vessels finished a contest and for the eighth time the Constitution came out winner. Today the margin was small, for she beat Columbia only 54 seconds corrected time. In elapsed time she won by two minutes and eighteen seconds.

The race was sailed under conditions that best suited the Constitution, a steady eight knot breeze and a smooth sea. It was finished in three hours and three minutes, very nearly a ten knot gale, which was fast time considering the wind and the fact that twelve miles of the course called for windward work, although it was not a dead beat.

KILLING NEAR TEMPE

Both the Slayer and His Victim Yaqui Indians.

There was a homicide between 2 and 3 p. m. yesterday on the old Houston place, about eight miles southeast of Tempe, in which a Yaqui by the name of Angulo was killed instantly by a Yaqui boy of 16 years, named Juan Robles. Angulo was about 35 years of age. According to the story of a number of eye-witnesses, all Yaquis or Mexicans, Angulo was sitting in a chair with his arms folded when the boy, without warning, pulled out a 32-caliber revolver and shot him. The bullet entered his upper lip to the left of the nose and ranged upward, but did not pass through his head. The boy had been drinking but those present claim that the victim had not. Two wine bottles, which had evidently just been emptied, were found near the house, and as there were some six or eight men present it is evident that they could not have been very drunk.

Immediately after the shooting the boy tried to escape and ran for the brush, but had only gone about fifty feet when he was caught by one of the bystanders. His hands were tied behind his back and his feet tied together. His wrists were tied so tightly that his hands were swollen to nearly twice their natural thickness, when he was released by Constable Ben Cummings, who was summoned from town. No water was given him by the Yaquis, and when Mr. Stewart came a short time before the officer's arrival, he was frothing at the mouth and throwing himself around like a wild beast.

The boy tells a story of extreme cruelty. He has a scar on his nose which he claims is the result of a blow given him by Angulo with a wine-bottle several years ago, and says Angulo has whipped him on sundry occasions. He also says that Angulo threatened to take him off his horse and thrash him. Angulo has worked for a number of ranchers on the south side, and has always been considered a peaceable man. Robles is said to have carried a gun for several years. The father of the murderer bears none too good a reputation, although he is a good worker. The homicide was brought into Tempe and placed in the town jail over night. A coroner's jury of the tragedy, but had not returned at the time of this writing.

10,000 CHINESE TO MEXICO.

Plan to Send Many of Them Across the Border to That Country?

Hermosillo, Mexico, Aug. 17.—The Chinese labor agency, of which W. S. Sen is at the head, is arranging to bring to Mexico direct from China 10,000 Chinese between now and the first of next year. The first cargo of 200 have just arrived at Guaymas.

While they are brought to Mexico ostensibly to work in the mines and on railroad construction, it is believed for good reasons that many of them will soon make their way across the border into the United States.

FROZEN AND ROASTED

Frank Morgan Having Suffered Death Now Enjoys Resurrection.

Mr. Frank Morgan, a brother of Mrs. W. A. Mayers, has endured the pangs of death, is now enjoying the pleasure of his resurrection and says it feels pretty good to be alive again, although he has some sore spots that will need nursing for a few days.

He was overcome on Thursday by the artificial heat thrown off from the steam pipes in the laundry where he is employed, and the fact that he is alive is due only to a good constitution and the hard and timely work of the two physicians who attended him. Timely is hardly the word to use either, for when the physicians were called they pronounced his case hopeless, and their work was done merely from duty and not that they had any faith in their efforts to save him. The incident will serve to encourage the medical fraternity to battle with death in the future wherever they meet him and against whatever odds.

Mr. Morgan is employed in the Arizona laundry and his work is in close proximity to the steam pipes above referred to. The weather at this season is not rigid and the additional heat from the pipes gradually prostrated the man, as he had remarked for a day or two that he was unusually warm and failed to prepay as he ought to. He simply thought he was tired and overworked and therefore took nothing to start the perspiration. Wednesday he complained at home and Thursday at noon he felt still worse, but thought he could work off the attack, so he returned to his labor. An hour or two afterward he quit work and walked home too greatly exhausted to ride his wheel. He lay down on the bed, thinking he would feel better after a little rest and objecting to the calling of a physician. An hour or two later his sister entered the room and found him in a convulsion. The physicians were sent for and on their arrival they found his temperature 109 and 9-10 and his pulse over 160. They announced that Mr. Morgan was a dead man, but they would make the effort of their lives and went to work.

He was packed in ice at the quickest possible moment, and kept there till the temperature became normal and the reaction set in. Then he began sinking to the other extreme and it was necessary to heat him up again artificially. This was done with hot cloths, heated irons and whatever else was at hand that would serve as a radiator. In order to keep his temperature from falling too low it was necessary to administer heroic treatment, and the result of it is that he has some ugly skin-deep burns, but they will heal in a few days and he won't mind a little soreness now. He was unconscious all through both the freezing and roasting process, and of course suffered no pain, so he does not begrudge the doctors any little fun they had in blistering him. He was able to be out for a buggy ride last evening and is practically well again.
